

The Terms of Use

North Coast Church Inc (NCC) owns and operates this website. By using or accessing this website you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agreed to be bound by these terms and conditions ("Terms of Use"). If you do not agree to the Terms of Use, please do not use this website.

Ownership of Website and Content

NCC owns the website and, unless otherwise indicated, owns or is licensed to use all content and other material appearing on the website. The material on this website is protected by copyright under the laws of Australia and may not be used without written permission by NCC. No trade mark (whether registered or not) that is displayed on this website may be used in any way without the prior written permission of NCC or of the relevant trade mark owner.

Security

NCC cannot guarantee any data or program available for download on this website (or any linked website) is free of viruses or other spyware, and you agree that you assume the risk of any damage to your computer as a result of using this website.

Third Party Content

This website contains information from or hyperlinks to websites operated by third parties. NCC provides such information and hyperlinks for your convenience only, but is not responsible for and does not endorse the content of any such information or website.

Revisions

NCC may revise these Terms of Use at any time in its absolute discretion by posting revised terms, and these revisions will be effective immediately. If any of the terms are found to be unenforceable, you agree that the remainder of the Terms of Use remain in full force and effect.

Liability

NCC provides this website and its contents on an "as is" basis, and makes no representation as to the accuracy, completeness, currency or reliability of the information contained on this website.

Governing Law

NCC operates this website from its offices within Australia. The laws of the State of Western Australia govern these Terms of Use, and you agree to submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Western Australia. You agree to be responsible for compliance with applicable local laws if you access this website outside Australia.